Bending Made-Up Beams

A made-up beam bends under a made-up load.
The deflection grows with the cube of its length.
Nothing here is real, and it is only for testing.

Its own text, made up.