A made-up page with a figure drawn as many small boxes, with labels around and inside it, which the ruler takes whole, and which are not read along with the text.

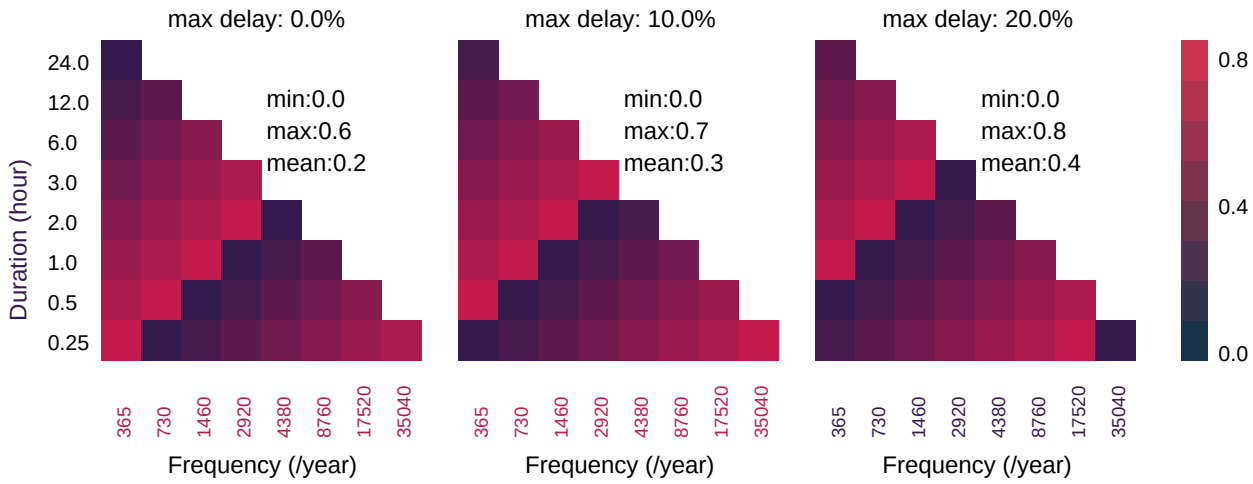

Figure 1: A made-up figure of boxes, for testing the ruler.

After the figure the text carries on, and then comes a table drawn with its cells' lines, which is one stop too, while each of its rows is still read a row at a time.

Made-up	First	Second
Alpha	12	30
Beta	8	20
Gamma	5	11

The second made-up page has a plot drawn with a line, its numbers set around it, and nothing else in it at all, so that it is one stop for the ruler, and none of it is read.

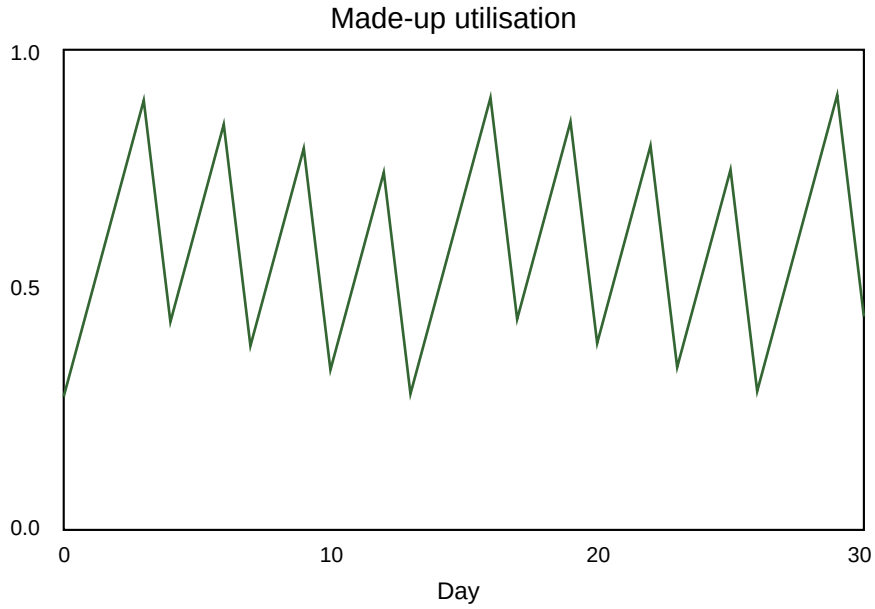

Figure 2: A made-up plot.

After it, the text ends with one more line to read here, and then the page ends with its number at the foot of it.